

MIEPA

Moscow Investment and Promotion Agency

MIEPA was founded in 2006 as a direct subsidiary of the Moscow Chamber of Commerce and Industry (MCCI).

What We Do?

We assist businesses and R&D Organizations in Russia and abroad and help them work together and generate new business opportunities and an exchange of ideas. We put Moscow businesses on a higher platform: we make smaller companies and institutions visible to global investors.

Our Services:

If you are a Moscow-based business or institution please contact us to find out what we can do for your project.

For international investors we offer support within all the stages of project development.

We provide a range of products and services including market research, location analysis. We will search for suitable business partners and we will assist you in establishing your company in Moscow.

Our network includes representatives from leading business, official, research and industry institutions.
